LogFire - A Statement of Style

Welcome to LogFire Stove & Flues Ltd, a high-tech UK manufacturer of wood, gas & multifuel stoves, flexible chimney liners, twin wall insulated flue pipe and associated products.

Our innovative range of products are manufactured to offer efficient functionality whilst offering our customers an iconic, sophisticated yet stylish design

The LogFire stoves product range of wood burning stoves are designed and manufactured at our facility in Darwen, Lancashire.

Utilising the highest quality materials our design engineers have fused the efficient necessity of a modern day heating appliance with an iconic design that offers our customers a statement of style.

LogFire products are available to retailers only and will not be offered for internet sale. The LogFire Stoves & Flues product range is synonymous with the highest quality - and it is this reputation and an attractive pricing strategy that will enable our customers to install our stove and flue packages with complete confidence.

LF4 Range

The LF4 range of LogFire stoves offers the connoisseur an unrivalled view of the flames, courtesy of our oversized glass panel and pre-heat air wash technology. Certificated to sit on a non-combustable 12mm hearth; and available with direct air-feed technology as standard and as an inset stove, this entry model stylish wood burning stove will complement any room setting.

LF6 Range

The LF6 range of sleek, contemporary woodstoves manufactured by LogFire offer effortless, efficient performance. Efficiencies of +74% and an output of 6Kw this iconic, designer CE approved woodburner would become a feature within any room setting. Available as single or doublesided, with various log storage and pedestal options, this range is available in more than 18 colour finishes and has direct air feed as standard.

LF10 Range

The LF10 range offers a huge 10Kw heat output without compromising on style. The LF10 range has direct air feed as standard. The effortless controls and E-z push door handle make this unit a joy to operate. The LF10 has the largest viewing picture available courtesy of its large glass window protected by a pre-heated air wash system.

Flue Systems

LogFire Stoves & Flues Ltd are a specialist UK manufacturer and distributor of high quality chimney and flue products for the domestic, commercial and industrial markets.

We specialise in high quality, twin wall insulated flue, flexible liners for gas, wood and multifuel installations and vitreous enamelled stove pipes.
